

The 2020/21 Michael Gordon Journalism Fellowships

MELBOURNE
PRESS CLUB

The Michael Gordon Journalism Fellowships is a national program to enable social justice journalism. The program was created in honour of the much respected former Age political editor, who died suddenly in February 2018.

The Fellowships are supported by:

Grants totalling up to $30,000 will fund reporting projects in areas including Indigenous affairs, migration policy, human rights and international development.

COPYRIGHTAGENCY
CULTURAL FUND

- ◆ Individual grants of up to $15,000 available for projects
- ◆ The program is open to all journalists, photographers and videographers with mainstream Australian news organisations, freelance journalists and accomplished journalism students. We encourage applications across all media.
- ◆ Applicants submit a project proposal addressing the selection criteria and provide a budget for their project.

NATIONAL
PRESS CLUB
OF AUSTRALIA

MPC also thanks Robyn Carter for her support for this program.

Entries close Thursday 30 September 2020.
Visit www.melbournepressclub.com for details