

MELBOURNE PRESS CLUB MENTORING PROGRAM

Applications are now open for the 2020/21 Melbourne Press Club Mentoring Program. This initiative offers developing journalists the opportunity to learn from experienced colleagues in a 12-month program.

Mentees are connected with senior colleagues from different media organisations giving them the opportunity to benefit from the insights, observations and wisdom offered by those experienced mentors.

“We are dedicated to finding compatible pairs and supporting them throughout the life of the program,” says MPC Chief Executive Cathy Bryson.

“Mentoring can be a truly valuable learning experience for all involved, and opportunities like these are needed now more than ever to ensure the next generation of journalists are equipped to thrive in a challenging and evolving news media environment.”

The program is specifically designed to support working journalists with up to seven years professional experience. We encourage applicants from diverse backgrounds and from all regions of Victoria.

The Melbourne Press Club Mentoring Program is grateful for the support of the Copyright Agency Cultural Fund in providing this program.

We anticipate that successful mentees will become members of the Melbourne Press Club.

Please visit our website for further information and the online application form. Applications close 28 August 2020.

For specific enquiries, or if you are interested in becoming a mentor, you can also contact the Melbourne Press Club office at mentoring@melbournepressclub.com or by phone on (03) 9614 2779.
