

Talking TV and correspondence with Alexis Daish

Alexis Daish has returned to Australia after two years in Los Angeles as Nine Network's US Foreign Correspondent, and will be joining moderator Matilda Marozzi for our first in-person Edit event in over a year!

During her time in the US, Alexis covered everything from awards season to crime, high-profile court cases, the 2020 US Election and the coronavirus pandemic.

Alexis has been with the Nine Network for 11 years – starting as a researcher for A Current Affair while studying at Melbourne University. She was awarded Young Journalist of the Year by the Melbourne Press Club and in 2016 won a Walkley Award for TV Young Journalist of the Year. In 2018, Alexis won a Quill Award for her reporting on the murder of Avondale Heights mother Karen Ristevski and has now returned to A Current Affair.
